REQUEST a Cancer Coach

The Cancer Coach Program connects Roswell Park patients with cancer survivors who know firsthand how a cancer diagnosis changes your life. Talking with someone who has lived with cancer can reduce anxiety and isolation. Cancer Coaches are trained Roswell Park volunteers who provide comfort and practical information for patients. While Cancer Coaches can provide valuable information about supportive services available at Roswell Park, they do not provide medical advice.

At no cost to you, a Program Coordinator will match you with a Cancer Coach who has coped with a similar diagnosis. We will also look for other potential commonalities, including shared interests, life stage and cultural/religious backgrounds.

BECOME a Cancer Coach

Now that you have completed your treatment for cancer, you may find yourself wanting to “pay it forward.” You remember what it was like being newly diagnosed and you have learned so much along the way about what cancer can mean for you and your whole family. This hard-won knowledge can be a new motivation for you as you continue through survivorship. Giving back can be your way of moving forward. We would be honored to have you join us as a Cancer Coach.

- Have been treated at one of Roswell Park’s locations, which includes Care Network locations.
- Complete Roswell Park’s Volunteer Onboarding, which includes an in-person training session and a medical release form.
- Attend a Cancer Coach Workshop.
