Historical Note:

The Department of Research Support Services is a resource available to all Roswell Park Comprehensive Cancer Center (RPCCC) investigators to assist with developing, submitting and reviewing grant applications. The Research Support office is available to locate funding opportunities; review eligibility guidelines; edit, format and package grant applications; assist with form completion; and provide liaison with funding partners. We are here to answer any additional grant-related questions posed by RPCCC staff. Research Support Services also provides administrative support to the shared resources, including billing for internal and external customers.

Cancer Center Support Grants (CCSGs) for NCI-designated Cancer Centers support two types of cancer centers: 1) Comprehensive Cancer Centers, which demonstrate reasonable depth and breadth of research activities in each of three major areas: basic laboratory; clinical; and prevention, control and population-based research, and which have substantial transdisciplinary research that bridges these scientific areas; and 2) Cancer Centers, which are primarily focused on basic laboratory; clinical; and prevention, cancer control, and population-based research; or some combination of these areas. The purpose of both types of NCI-designated Cancer Centers is to capitalize on all institutional cancer research capabilities, integrating meritorious programs in laboratory, clinical, and population research into a single transdisciplinary research enterprise across all institutional boundaries. Cancer Centers supported through this FOA are expected: to serve as major sources of discovery of the nature of cancer and of development of more effective approaches to prevention, diagnosis, and therapy; to contribute significantly to the development of shared resources that support research; to collaborate and coordinate their research efforts with other NCI-funded programs and investigators; and to disseminate research findings for the benefit of the community.
