

Mandatory Influenza Immunization

8/5/2010

	Barnes - Jewish Hospital	Dana Farber Cancer Institute	Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center	Duke University Medical Center	Fox Chase Cancer Center	H. Lee Moffitt Cancer Center	James Cancer Hospital and Solove Research Institute	John and Rebecca Moore Cancer Center at UC San Diego	Karmanos Cancer Center	M.D. Anderson Cancer Center	Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center	Oregon Health & Sciences University Hospitals	Orlando Regional Healthcare	Roswell Park Cancer Institute	Seattle Cancer Care Alliance	U.T. M.D. Anderson Cancer Center	UCLA's Jonsson Comprehensive Cancer Center	University of Miami Sylvester Cancer Center	USC Norris Cancer Hospital	Washington University School of Medicine	City of Hope National Medical Center
Mandatory flu immunization Y or N or pending		Yes	under discussion			No . However for high risk (BMT) have separate policy that if receive flu vaccine and you get sick it will be paid leave by hospital. No flu vaccine and it will be unpaid leave.				No. However, mandatory participation required for high risk patient caregivers in 09-10 season. 10-11 season will require mandatory participation for all HCW. (Participation= get flu shot or sign declination form with reason - including allergy)	pending			No- much to our dismay, senior leadership not willing to make immunization or declination mandatory (praying NYS makes it mandatory again)	We do allow staff to decline the vaccine. Any staff that decline must sign a declination form, we also talk to them to find out their reasoning and provide them with education on the importance of getting vaccinated. Washington legislation for mandatory flu vaccination was not approved this year, making it hard to do more than the declination at this point.	No					No
Mask if not immunized Y or N		Yes	under discussion			No					no			No			No				No
Mask door to door or 3-6 feet of patient		clinical areas where pt may be waiting, seen or treated - not yet totally defined.	was 3-6 feet, changed to door to door for H1N1, discussing if we should keep it door to door.			No					door to door						Yes				Door
Comments																					We require masks and gloves for all HEM patients 365 days a year. Last year we required masks and glove for all patients for the flu season